

Taking the temperature

Before looking at the thermometer, predict what the temperature might be.

Now, use the thermometer to measure today's temperature.

The thermometer also shows the maximum and minimum temperatures.

Which side of the thermometer measures the maximum temperature?

What is the maximum temperature?

Which side of the thermometer measures the minimum temperature?

What is the minimum temperature?

What are the differences between each of the temperatures?

